

OUR PURPOSE

Foster active participation in legislative and lobbying activities

Gain information about the work of farm organizations

Keep up-to-date on agriculture policies and activities

Promote ag-related occupations

Growing a brighter future!

For information about your University's Collegiate Farm Bureau chapter contact:

Jan Dauve, University of Missouri/Columbia
dauvej@missouri.edu

Dr. Anson Elliott, Missouri State University
AnsonElliott@missouristate.edu

Michael Aide, Southeast Missouri State University
mtaide@semo.edu

Dr. Ashley Renck, University of Central Missouri
renck@ucmo.edu

Dr. Mark Goodwin, University of Central Missouri
sgoodwin@ucmo.edu

Dr. Michael Seipel, Truman State University
mseipel@truman.edu

Dr. J. Arley Larson, Northwest Missouri State University
admiral@nwmissouri.edu

Collegiate FB Chapters:

University of Missouri - Columbia

Missouri State University

Southeast Missouri State University

University of Central Missouri

Truman State University

Northwest Missouri State University

The average age of an American farmer is 55, and the average American is three generations removed from the farm.

So what does this mean for the future of Agriculture?

It means...

Young Leadership is Needed!

Students!
Students!
Students!

Do you want to be part of one of the university's most vital clubs?

Would you like to explore important issues facing agriculture today?

Want to have fun while learning and making a difference?

Activities include:

- Monthly meetings with informative speakers
- Annual legislative tour to State Capitol
- Social activities and service projects
- Participation in Farm Bureau policy process
- Interaction with local county Farm Bureaus
- Hosting Ag Forums

University students of today are the agriculture leaders of tomorrow.

The first Collegiate Farm Bureau chapter in the nation began in 1986 at the University of Missouri. Today, there are chapters at six of our state universities. They are sanctioned by Missouri Farm Bureau, the state's largest general farm organization.

Collegiate Farm Bureau is an excellent opportunity for the students of today who will become the agriculture leaders of tomorrow! Join your university's chapter and learn more about the exciting opportunities available now and in the future.

For additional information contact the Field Services Department

PO Box 658, Jefferson City, Missouri 65102
573-893-1411 / www.mofb.org